

FLEXIBLE SPENDING ACCOUNTS (FSAS): A SIMPLE way · to · SAVE

EMPOWERING YOU TO BUILD HEALTH SAVINGS

A simple way to save

Take advantage of significant tax savings by participating in a flexible spending account (FSA). You can elect to have a portion of your paycheck contributed pre-tax to pay for qualified medical expenses such as deductibles, co-payments, dental and vision. A dependent care FSA (DCRA) may also be offered for similar tax savings on qualified dependent care expenses.

Health care FSA

Funds from a health care FSA can be used for qualified expenses including medical, dental, vision, deductibles, co-payments and coinsurance. For a full list of qualified expenses allowed by the IRS, see IRS Publication 502.¹ With health care FSAs, the entire elected amount is available to you on the first day of the health plan year. You don't have to wait for your payroll contributions to accumulate before paying expenses with your FSA.

Use it, or lose it

FSAs are generally "use-it-or-lose-it" plans. This means that amounts in the FSA at the end of the plan year generally cannot be carried over to the next year. However, the plan can provide for either a grace period or a carryover. Additionally, if an accountholder leaves an employer or retires, unused funds are forfeited. For more details, see IRS publication 969 or consult a tax advisor.

Limited carryover

Some plans may allow up to $500 of unused FSA funds remaining at the end of a plan year to be carried over to the next year. Ask your benefits team for details about your plan's FSA carryover and/or grace period policy.

¹ Insurance and prepaid long term care are not eligible for reimbursement of FSA. It's the member's responsibility to ensure that the expenses are eligible under the employer's plan. One should consult a tax advisor as individual factors and situations vary.

HOW AN FSA WORKS

FSA Eligibility

Typically anyone whose employer offers an FSA can participate, including employees not covered under the employer's health plan. Your employer may exclude certain types of employees, such as part-time, seasonal, or temporary. Ask your employer benefits team to verify eligibility.

1. Sign Up

During your employer's open enrollment at the beginning of each plan year, sign up to participate in an FSA. Select the option that best meets your needs and then determine the amount you would like to contribute from your pre-tax earnings.

2. Contribute

Your employer will arrange to have the determined amount of your pre-tax earnings contributed to your FSA. Typically the amount withheld from your paycheck is equal each pay period.

3. Use your funds

When you incur a qualified expense, you can either pay with the HealthEquity Visa® Reimbursement Account card¹ provided by some plans or submit the expenses through the HealthEquity online tool for reimbursement. Remember to save all receipts; you'll need them for reimbursements and to validate your expenses with your employer or administrator.
